Membership Opportunities

Training & Qualifications

The IAM Foundation Award is a one-day course designed to provide the fundamentals of asset management.

IAM Qualifications (Certificate and Diploma) promote good asset management practice and promote career progression for asset management professionals, with clear benefits to the organisations they work for with increased insight and knowledge. Both are now available to take online or through one of our Endorsed Trainers.

We have bulk discounts available for all courses, and for the Foundation Award we can offer your own learning portal for your employees. Enquire to find out more.

Events

Our events scale from the international, thought-leading IAM Annual Conference, to our region-leading Chapter conferences, to webinars, workshops and panel discussions, as well as more informal presentations and networking events.

They are the best way to learn and hear first-hand the practices and innovations happening in varied business sectors – as well as the best way to grow your network and meet other asset management professionals. Most of our events are free to attend, and all members get a discount on event tickets for those that are pay-to-attend.

Chapters and Branches

Chapters are organised groups of IAM members from one or more countries. They provide a structure for people to come together to learn, share and network where they are and service as the immediate interface for members to engage with the Institute. Branches exist within Chapters for members to come together on a more local scale for regional events and networking relevant to the local area.

Chapters and Branches provide a variety of opportunities to meet industry leaders and learn from other professionals in your area, focusing on aspects of asset management relevant to businesses in the region, as well as being an excellent platform for networking.

Volunteer Opportunities

Volunteers are at the heart of everything the IAM does. Many of the products and services that we offer would not exist without the support of volunteers during planning, development, and implementation stages. Becoming a volunteer offers a number of benefits, both for your career and your health and wellbeing!

It is a great way to expand your networks within the asset management community: work with other professionals from all sectors across the discipline and develop new skills to enhance your career. We have opportunities for you to join IAM committees, long-running groups developing knowledge, or short-run projects like webinars, publications or case studies. You can see and register interest in all of these online.

Member Resources

Assets

The IAM's membership magazine. Published quarterly, this magazine covers industry and IAM news, and features with insights from leading asset management professionals and organisations around the world.

NxtGen

Do you have employees that are new to asset management? They can learn, share and network through the IAM's NxtGen initiative and raise your profile in the asset management profession. Many of our Patrons and Corporate Members support NxtGen events and provide learning experiences for NxtGen members.

Self Assessment Methodology +

The IAM's SAM+ tool enables organisations in all sectors to measure their capabilities against the requirement of both PAS 55 and ISO 55001, and the 39 subjects of the IAM Conceptual Model, found in the GFMAM Landscape. This valuable tool has been developed by the IAM and made available for members.

IAM Events Library

We draw global speakers and thought leaders in asset management to share insight case studies, workshops and innovations at our event. Access event presentations or watch conference presentations, webinars and annual lectures, when these are made available to membership post-event.

IAM Knowledge

We are committed to promoting and sharing leading asset management knowledge. The IAM's 'Asset Management - An Anatomy' is a core text for all professionals. We also produce webinars, glossaries, translations, and other documents and guidance relating to ISO 55001. Many are not member-restricted like the SAM+ tool and Conference Presentations, but build a valuable resource library for the profession. As a member, you can enjoy all resources, as well as have the opportunity to help develop and build them.
