ABOUT THE EDWARDS BURSARY

The Edwards Bursary is a merit-based financial assistance programme that helps Student and Associate Members access professional development opportunities in asset management.

It supports participation in activities such as training courses, qualifications, workshops, conferences, research projects and opportunities that may otherwise be inaccessible due to lack of funding.

Established in recognition of Richard Edwards' significant contribution to the IAM and the asset management profession, the bursary has supported aspiring asset management professionals since 2022.

Ssanyu Kaganzi - Edwards Bursary Recipient 2023

"The IAM Edwards Bursary has given me an opportunity for further professional development in the field of asset management, having obtained the IAM Certificate. I had an opportunity to pursue the course of ISO 55001 Lead Implementer, and am currently pursuing the IAM Diploma using the fund. I am now more confident to provide asset management advisory to our clients and the asset management community at large. It has also opened the door for greater engagement, knowledge sharing and leadership within the profession."

Ayman Sultan - Edwards Bursary Recipient 2023

"The IAM Edwards Bursary enabled me to pursue the IAM Diploma and achieve it with Distinction. What I value most about the journey is the challenge I set for myself: preparing for an advanced, high-level exam entirely through self-study, supported by IAM Subject Specific Guidelines (SSGs) and disciplined learning. It strengthened my confidence and validated my capability to take on complex professional goals. In addition, the bursary offered valuable work-shadowing opportunities with experienced professionals across maintenance, reliability and asset management, which broadened my perspective and enriched my development."
